Dear Glenn,

The continued success of the Erral Lea Plymate Memorial Endowment is playing a significant role in the promotion of safety as a hallmark issue in the wonderful world of general aviation. It is also a tremendous tribute by one of AOPA Air Safety Foundation's most passionate donors in honor of his dearest lifelong friend, his wife.

Thanks to your generosity and vision your efforts on behalf of Erral will help to educate thousands of pilots and save many lives of both pilots and passengers. You have shown that one man, holding steadfastly to a dream, can achieve well beyond even his highest aspirations.

ASF has grown, in part because of the funding provided by the Erral Lea Plymate Memorial Endowment. The Endowment began modestly with $2500. At the time ASF goals were to add one new safety course online annually and reach 1,500 course completions monthly. Today, the foundation has produced 30 online courses and monthly website attendance exceeds 50,000.

The Erral Lea Plymate Memorial Endowment will always be there to provide general aviation safety education. Thank you Glenn, the Plymate family, and admirers of Erral. The spirit of your love for one another lives on!

Sincerely,
